have been tapped at many places, signal stations established and a code spread among those in the plots. Several days ago a man endeavored to lease a plot of high ground in Huntington Park, according to a report made to officers here, the purpose being to establish a wireless station. This man, a German, answers in a general description to Mueller and today a number of persons will be permitted to see Mueller and state whether or not he is the man who has been sought since it was reported that he was seeking a location in Huntington Park.

Deputy Sheriff Fox and Nolan declare that, in their opinion, Mueller was undoubtedly committing a daylight burglary, he had some other motive in sight. They point to the fact that he has been collecting more than $50 a week with his subscription book and that the value of the articles taken from the home of Mrs. Kiewit was but a couple of dollars.

The officers were also able to develop a number of addresses in Mueller's subscription book, the impression remaining on the adjoining sheet of paper, although the sheet containing the names had been removed. These addresses will be the subject of a rigid investigation today in an effort to learn what connection the suspected burglar may have had with prominent Germans. If any connection is established between the prisoner and alleged German activities here and on the border the charge of burglary will be dropped and the man will be turned over to the Federal authorities for investigation.

Institute trainmen, would not sue Adamson law suffice?

So far the high cost of living has not been torpedoed.

Good morning, have you a candidate for the City Council in your home?

Whether the war upon the alleged fish trust is a funder is yet to be shown.

How hard it is to laugh at a story after you have heard it for about eight times!

Speaking of the language of stones, what does the poetess stand for?

Mayor Woodman has thrown his hat into the ring. Come on in, boys, the water is fine.

And there is the Big Four of the railroad trainmen—another "little group of willful men."

In spite of the war, the Kaiser has ordered a new spring suit. Dress fashion will be served.

The hour is now waiting for the man who can send the submarine over the deep-sea ropes.

The Kaiser is a better sport than First Chief Carranza. He did not try to borrow money from this country.

Fifty editors will sit in the new Congress. They ought to be able to "blue-pencil" a lot of stuff that has passed muster.

It is not so necessary that there be a bi-partisan organization of Congress as that it shall be made up of true-blue Americans.

Was the special session of the Senate called to pass laws dealing with the country, or merely to confirm the nomination of Dr. Cary Trauer Grayson as rear-admiral?

"Scented letters" are the latest means of securing incriminating evidence in criminal cases. Same old story; nothing new. Remember, Victorian Sardonius used that idea.

It is suggested that the local automobile men engaged in the dipping sewing business would make a lot of new business by having an observation trailer for the benefit of those on a honeymoon.

It has been figured out that a man who goes to war has a better chance for his life than a baby at home. Of course, such a comparison would not hold in Southern California, where conditions are so different not only for babies but for grown-ups.

Miss Jane Newcomb, a resident teacher in the Pennsylvania State College, says that the fashion makers are the principal competitors with mankind in making people live with the latest fashions. We think Miss Newcomb has a whole lot to say in that remark.

With the questions arising from the war, and numerous other public policy to be determined, President Wilson, the fear of a general railway strike now looms as Chief Executive was right when he said that the man who wanted to be President was a fool.

In the threatened strike of the Railway Brotherhood and other unions, the United States Supreme Court? It has all the earmarks of a blackmailing game. The moment when the nation is in a state of war with a foreign country, it is not a good time to be playing a blackmailing game.

The executive order of President Wilson covering all the first, second and third-class postmaster and civil service rules is due about March 1. It is alleged that the president wants the final stroke in a plan to force Wilson a personal political machine. It withdraws from many of the Congress and State party leaders their strongest political asset and hands that power, strongly centralized, to the President and his political engineer-in-chief, the Postmaster-General.

A CHILD IN A MEXICAN GARRO. My garden-ground is rosy green. With little streaks of light between. And walls all made of white and red. Hold up the sky above my head.

I think sometimes that walls are blue. Will never let the clouds get by. But always, somehow and in blue. Over their slide and travel past.

What lies beyond I do not know. But this is where big poplars grow. And elms come out when winter falls. And pigeons pace the roared walls.

The elves are much too small to see. But when I'm quiet as a bee. I hear them: something soft and light. And fitters in the jumper.

And Pablo says each little elf. Years a sombrero like a shell. But I believe so big and slow. I hardly see how he could move.

Some days I'm up before the dawn. To get my gardening done. And Mamacha comes to help. And look about with me and me.

Her voice is just like shadow. And up and down and over. And up and down and over. And up and down and over.

Think she is as soft and white. As pigeons shining in the light. (Grace Hazard Conklin, a body's.)
